

PART 6 - IMPLEMENTATION

'A Better World'

Hence, ⁵'A More Advanced Society', in every sphere of Life, not just technologically, founded on 'Community-Based, Self-Governance in A United and Re-Schooled World', would soon come into existence.

At The Ballot Box

But how might this elevated civilisation become introduced and then established throughout the land in practice?

There is only one way, imho (supported by much study, experience and reflection), in which these 'beneficial adaptations to society' could be achieved, over a period of time, carefully & successfully, and that is by making full use of the present system - especially, 'The Parliamentary Process.'

Democracies, therefore, must first be instituted wherever they are absent and an enlightened, 'r/evolutionary' organisation formed in each country.

The main purpose of this spiritually-aware, political association would be, in particular, at the time of an election, to gain positions of 'control from above' in order to dismantle & get rid of them (possibly, in the ways outlined here), thereby never becoming 'An IFEG', i.e. 'An Imposed For Ever Government', after which, having overseen this 'glocal' (global+local) transformation, it would be disbanded.

A Vital Pre-Condition

But, while warning against the endless use of authoritarianism and its consequences, it would always uphold and promote 'The Notion of Unity', i.e. the re-cognition that 'We Are All One.'

For, as observed throughout these pages, there can be no change of circumstance, without a change of consciousness.

On the contrary, if we do not enhance our perspective and grow (up), individually and collectively, but simply return to 'normal', after each crisis, and leave things as they are, they will surely only 'get worse'!

Time For Advancement!

Therefore, "be a light unto the darkness and curse it not" for "where there is vision, people flourish, grow, emancipate, and create that which they desire." (References available.)

For, is not this the perfect time for moving on? (Part 7)

⁵Thus, under these enlightened conditions, human affairs, for example, would still be organised but with each of us having a say over our lives and surroundings; food, goods and services would still be provided but in a safe, harmless manner; transport would still exist but in non-polluting and shared ways; energy would still be produced but only from renewable sources; people would still be employed but in locations called 'the joyplace'; leisure time would still be had but in larger amounts and 'more constructively' spent; children, young people and adults would still be educated but via 'self-regulatory methods'; and, religion would still be accessible but in an updated and unifying form.
