

CONCLUSION

The Choice Is Ours!

So, there you have it. Either we, the temporary, evolving residents of this planet, 'wake up', no matter where we dwell, and then, having 're-membered' Who We Are and Why We Are Here (a brief explanation of which is given in Part A), decide, as truthful, global citizens, each 'an individuation of the whole', enjoying a local identity, that control of our lives and surroundings be handed down to and taken up by us all (perhaps, in the ways outlined in Parts B, C, and D), while every religion and creed is being updated in the light of this refreshing information.

Or, we, the human race, remain 'asleep', as observed in The Introduction, and, forever divided into layers within the pyramids of wealth and power (in which the top is moving inexorably away from the bottom), continue to allow the imposition of fearful, separate, 'Police States' in order to control, from above, the deteriorating situation - not least, socially and environmentally - which is rapidly developing here on Earth?

I know which of these possible outcomes/destinations, these big picture/long term goals, I choose - that which is inspired by Unity, i.e. Oneness, and founded on Love, i.e. Agape!

Therefore, I support the formation of an 'OWT' Party (as put forward in Part E.)

But what about you?

Yours for moving on,

just 'Magnificence' and pure, limitless, unseen-by-anybody-else energy)!
